2021 - OMNIVI3E

This is a recording label run by Greystoke Studio in the United Kingdom. In addition to a composition entitled "I Can't Breathe" recorded for the label in 2020, three new songs were recorded in South Africa and completed in the UK for an album release later this year on all digital streaming platforms such as iTunes, Apple Music, Amazon, Spotify etc. Hence, 4 contracts with the British Phonographic Industry worth a (Pound Sterling) each and was signed by Byron Major and his current "momager" - Glenda Manchest, for the collection of future royalties in every international territory for performance and radio play of all Byron's songs recorded for the OMNIVI3E recording label in West London, England, UK.

2020 - Major Music Artist Biography

"I am sure I will be able to bring energy, diversity and creativity into any job I am given. Singer, Producer, Composer, Pianist who also has a #1 hit on Kings of Spin DJ Chart featured on BBC Radio One in London, England. Including three Top 30 UK Music Week official club hits on the Pop Commercial Charts. I've also released an EP entitled Finding The Light which was playlisted on several community & regional radio stations across South Africa. Byron Major has proven his prowess as a singer-song-writer-performer-producer because made it to the Top 24 of South African Idols at the age of 17, he was invited to perform his original song 'South Africa' at Nelson Mandela's Boston birthday celebration attended by the Governor of Massachusetts in the USA in 2013, sang his original songs alongside Grammy Award-Winning singer Paula Cole while studying at Berklee College of Music (Boston, USA). His 2016 single 'May Flower' caught the attention of 21 radio stations across the UK, his track "Delicious" charted for 10-weeks on college radio in South Africa, his single Midnight Daydream peaked at number 26 on the UK Music Week Official Club chart, Color My World peaked at Number 15 on the same UK Music Week chart, and Rockstar peaked at Number 1 on BBC Radio One's Kings of Spin DJ Charts in 2018. Rockstar went on to be playlisted in countries around the globe, including: Australia, Netherlands, Germany, Sweden, England & USA, and to complete the year Byron Major's Summer Day charted at number 16. At the end of 2019, Matchbox Recordings UK invited Byron to feature Color My World on their compilation album and the track was playlisted on London FM. The year 2020 has indeed been an unprecedented year given the global health pandemic that had us in lockdown across the world, and has presented a wide range of personal challenges for us but it has also connected us on the level of our humanity." - B.L.M.N.W.

2014 & 2015

Marketing & PR Internship at Sony Music Entertainment Africa, Westcliffe, RSA

- Responsible for the Artist & Repertoire (A&R) submissions account at Sony Music. Ensuring that all demo submissions from prospective artists, bands, songwriters and producers are documented and catalogued into the Sony Music database; including social media information from digital platforms such as YouTube, SoundCloud, Twitter and Facebook.
- With the assistance of Sony’s PR/Marketing coordinator, ensure that a biweekly A&R sampler is distributed throughout the company, displaying highlights from the Sony Music demo submissions, in preparation for the A&R meeting. Employees are asked to listen to the A&R sampler ahead of the A&R meeting, to gather which artists that’d be interested in bringing forward for a record contract.
- Responsible for drawing up a track-list and information packet that is presented in the A&R meeting, for employees to gain more information on prospective Sony Music contract signees, from the demo submissions database.
- Responsible for assisting with the creation and packaging of radio samplers for up & coming Sony radio singles presented from Sony’s international labels; RCA, Columbia and Epic, which represent artists such as Usher, Chris Brown, Pharrell Williams, George Ezra and Michael Jackson to name a few. These radio samplers are sent to various magazines, TV stations, South African tastemakers, Internet blogs and radio stations across South Africa, after which it is presented to the music managers at radio stations such as 5FM, Highveld Stereo, Metro FM and Radio 702. When the submission is successful, the music from the radio samplers is playlisted to the radio station and played on various radio programs throughout the week.
- Have been of assistance to the Digital Marketing team in tracking various catalogue numbers for ring-back-tones (RBTs) from Sony’s Internet Database called Digital Exchange 3. These RBTs are 30-sec snippets of Sony Music’s songs required by telecommunication companies such as Vodacom, MTN and other Pan-African companies throughout Nigeria, Kenya and Mauritius, for their cataloguing of ring- back-tunes.
- Assisted the Digital Marketing Manager at Sony Music with a digital campaign for South Africa’s Joyous Celebration. I was responsible for cataloguing and documenting fan-information from Joyous Celebration’s digital platform on Facebook.

- Have been of assistance to the Digital Marketing Manager at Sony Music with Playlisting a couple of Sony Music catalogue for the digital streaming platform, Deezer.

Byron Major is Back. Putting Singer-Songwriter-Producer Byron Major's music into a box is not going to work. Byron says that "genres in music is like racism in society – not applicable". While his style is certainly influenced by his early classical music training, Byron's music takes on elements from Motown to Alternative R&B, Soul and traditional South African rhythm. You can also definitely hear the influences of Stevie Wonder, Prince and John Lennon in his soulful R&B vocals and piano arrangements and performance. The brand new single from 'Byron Major' is the title track to his latest E.P 'Finding The Light'. 'Finding The Light' is a touching and shiver inducing accomplished piano ballad of 'Stevie Wonder' and 'John Legend' proportions. 'Byron Major' sings his very heart out and delivers a performance capable of bringing a listener to tears, on this heart wrenching, emotional, God filled, warm and classic piano ballad. You can hear the incredibly touching piano ballad 'Finding The Light' from 'Byron Major' on Bafana FM everyday at 6 p.m South African time and on the Africa Daily List. Byron Major has proven his prowess as a singer-songwriter-performer-producer. He made it to the Top 24 of South African Idols at the age of 17 and was invited to perform his original song 'South Africa' at Nelson Mandela's Boston birthday celebration attended by the Governor of Massachusetts in the USA in 2013. He sang his original songs alongside Grammy Award-Winning singer Paula Cole while studying at Berklee College of Music (Boston, USA) and his 2016 single 'May Flower' caught the attention of 21 radio stations across the UK. His track "Delicious" charted for 10-weeks on college Radio in South Africa and his single Midnight Daydream peaked at number 26 on the UK Music Week Official Club chart, Color My World peaked at Number 15 on the same UK Music Week chart, and Rockstar peaked at Number 1 on BBC Radio One's Essential Mix Creators Kings of Spin DJ Charts in 2018. Rockstar went on to be playlisted in countries around the globe, including: Australia, Netherlands, Germany, Sweden, England & USA, and to complete the year Byron Major's Summer Day charted at number 16. At the end of 2019, Matchbox Recordings UK invited Byron to feature Color My World on their compilation album and the track was playlisted on London FM. Byron Major was recently the Cover Star for South African Music and Entertainment Magazine, Bafana. The year 2020 has indeed been an unprecedented year given the global health pandemic that had us in lockdown across the world, and has presented a wide range of personal challenges for us but it has also connected us on the level of our humanity. Byron Major's EP entitled "Finding the Light" therefore aims to bring hope and encouragement in the face of adversity. This EP touches on topics such as being lost within the circus of life's rat race to his favourite topics of relationships and unrequited love. In his forthcoming single entitled Finding the Light, the same title as the EP, the lyrics tell the experience of many a man and woman, and Byron's emotions permeates his piano and vocal performance and penetrates the soul. The release date for the EP, Finding the Light by Byron Major, was released globally on 27th October.
